

Letter of recommendation - Bhakti Ram Devkota

We spent 10 glorious days in mid March 2010, trekking with Bhakti on the Annapurna Sanctuary trail and had a very memorable experience. Bhakti, having been born and raised in the Pokhara area, has an in-depth understanding of the mountains, and being a very sociable and likable person, he is well known and admired in many of the villages on the trail. Every day he was most attentive to our needs and tried to provide us with the utmost comfort possible in these remote areas. He is knowledgeable in many areas and we enjoyed talking with him about many different subjects. His speciality is birds, but he also has a good knowledge of regional flora, local cultures, customs and farming. His English is absolutely excellent and he also has a great sense of humour!

Bhakti is warm-hearted, completely genuine, and great fun to be with. We can heartily recommend him as a guide who will make your trek an experience of a life-time.
